

ACI's 35th International Conference on the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act

11.29.2018

Washington, DC

Kathryn Cameron Atkinson will present, as part of a panel, "The Compliance Monitor's Perspective: Where Companies Have Gone Right and Wrong on FCPA Compliance and Remediation," at ACI's 35th International Conference on the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act on November 29, 2018.

Past compliance monitors will provide practical guidance that can help to move your program forward, including:

- Taking stock of anti-corruption compliance successes and missteps
- How to conduct an effective compliance review and leverage the findings to revise your policies and procedures
- Implementing compliance upgrades and improved training programs
- Strengthening corporate culture and how to "right the ship" upon discovering a potential issue
- Metrics that have proven useful in the context of measuring compliance upgrades and culture changes
- Navigating a monitorship and the challenges faced by both the company and monitor
- Overcoming "on the ground" hurdles to remediation
