

18th Annual SCCE Compliance & Ethics Institute

09.16.2019

National Harbor, Maryland

Gregory Bates will speak at the Society for Corporate Compliance and Ethic's (SCCE) 18th Annual Compliance & Ethics Institute on September 16, 2019 in National Harbor, Maryland. Bates will present, as part of a panel, "Avoid a Compliance Hangover: Maintain Momentum in Your Compliance Program After the Regulators Have Left." The panel will:

- Provide practical tactics to resist calls from management and the board of directors to undo compliance enhancements after settlements with regulators and external monitors
- Address your organization's realities, such as compliance fatigue at a sensitive time, while maintaining an effective program and demonstrating the program's value to stakeholders
- Learn to identify and protect what's important, prudently adjust to changing realities, and be a good corporate teammate while shielding your company from recidivism
