tax break Podcast
03.29.2021

In this episode, Loren and Steve speak with Mike Cragg from The Brattle Group about economics and transfer pricing valuations. Over time, the modes of economic valuation for transfer pricing purposes have become predictable and sometimes rote. Are there other ways to skin the proverbial cat? On this episode, we discuss some possible novel approaches with Mike Cragg, an experienced economist and the Principal & Chairman at The Brattle Group. In particular, we'll discuss the role that insights from antitrust economics and notions of minority discounts might play in transfer pricing valuations.

Thanks to our guest, Dr. Michael Cragg.
