

NACDL White Collar Summer Series: Defending the Executive Branch

09.28.2017

Washington, DC

Andrew D. Herman will speak at the National Association of Criminal Defense Lawyers (NACDL) White Collar Summer Series titled "Defending the Executive Branch: Investigations & Impeachment Proceedings" on September 28, 2017. Herman, along with other panelists, will discuss how congressional and law enforcement investigations of the executive branch of government present unique issues, including those related to separation of powers, executive privilege, attorney-client privilege, the role of the judiciary and impeachment. The panel will also provide insight on how lawyers for key players in these cases represent their clients effectively.
